What's Going on in Spain?

For our month in Spain, what brought pastors, leaders and laypeople to the six cities? They were motivated to learn practical ways to help others through biblical counseling.

Many people behind the scenes helped make the trainings possible.

What is the parents' circle of responsibility in filling their children's love and respect buckets?

The YWAM base in Seville asked for a special training for their team.

Using biblical tools is a key to effective discipleship.

The church in Seville invited pastors and leaders from the surrounding area for the training.

We met Martha at the seminar and were shocked when she told us she had seen our TV interview in the Dominican Republic 25 years ago!

The palm of the hand represents forgiveness, and the fingers represent the hindrances to forgiveness that when answered can lead to forgiveness.

Breakfast on the six-hour train trip from Seville to Pamplona in northern Spain.

What a surprise on Linda's 81st birthday when 700 people sang "Happy Birthday" to her, not in Spanish, but in ENGLISH. That was a first!

Another surprise was this beautiful birthday cake from Rigo, our coordinator in Spain.

Rigo and Luisa handled the book table at the seminars.

All proceeds from the books stay in Spain for Christian counseling training, but Chuck loves to sign the books.

"Would you put your presentation on "Healing from Adultery" in a book?" urged Pastor Marcos Zapata, President of the National Evangelical Association of Spain. Chuck agreed and began writing even before we returned home.

Your past that is processed biblically is the frame around your life that gives a greater appreciation for your life and testimony.

We had a fascinating archaeological day trip to Osuna's ancient stone quarries dating back to 500 B.C.

Pamplona is known for its annual "running with the bulls" event every July. We tried our own bull run! 🚫

The audience response in Lugo was humbling. After the forgiveness prayer, many were wiping away their tears of relief.

No mission trip would be complete without a flat tire in the middle of nowhere.

We came face-to-face with a challenge when our translator didn't show up. Now what?

A missionary wife stepped up to fill in on the spur of the moment. 45 minutes later the translator showed up and did a great job!

Pastors, leaders and four psychologists attended the Baptist Association two-day training in Granada.

The national Baptist leadership approached us at the end and asked, “When can you come back?”

One motivation to consider returning to Spain was emphasized by a woman’s response on the emotional freedom topic. She rushed forward at the end sobbing with mascara running down her cheeks, thanking us over and over again. She shared that she has gone to many conferences and healing services to deal with the hurt from her abusive dad. She said, “Today I’m free for the first time in 50 years!” Our response to her was, “Now, you know how to bring freedom to other hurting women.” She cried and hugged us and said she will.

This kind of response is our “thank you” for the four weeks of training in Spain. How we thank God for His help and for working through you and your prayers, support, and encouragement to keep us going.

Gratefully, yours and His,

Chuck and Linda Lynch
